All He Wants For Xmas

Francis Dunford of Boston, a 17-year-old high school student, will get two front teeth for Christmas, by court order. Dunford charged Robert Barrett, 18, with knocking his teeth out in a fight after a party at his home yesterday. A judge asked Dunford whether he wanted Barrett jailed or whether he wanted new teeth. Dunford chose new teeth.

Unlike the Catholic Review of Washington, D.C., Rev. Charles Lanphier, Toronto Roman Catholic priest and radio speaker, says: "I'm all for Santa." The Review said yesterday Santa is replacing Christ in the minds of some people.

Father Lanphier said: "I think he (Santa) is a swell fellow and I don't see any reason why he should be suspected of replacing the Christ Child at Christmas."

Million Dollar Parking Lot

Early next year the site of the Old Vancouver Hotel will be a parking lot holding about 280 vehicles. Located in the heart of downtown Vancouver, the hotel site was purchased by T. J. Eaton some time ago as site for his department store. However, Eaton has decided against the building and will turn the parking lot with a shuttle service bus carrying customers to and from the lot to their Hastings shops.

Travelling Hat Shows Up

Seems someone is pulling the hat trick. In this case though it's not a matter of scoring three goals. It involves a battered old straw hat that seems to be making its way around the world without charge and with its original sender unknown. Hat reached Winnipeg today. Every station where it receives it plays along with the gag. No one signs for it and there are no charges. It's just placed on the train going anywhere and today it has been through nearly every state in the U.S. and a lot of Canada.

Funny, Funny What Money Can Do

Western handkerchief Leon McAlister of Tulsa, Okla., said today he would press charges against his blonde sister who stole $10,000 from him because he didn't return her love. "He never paid any attention to me," complained 27-year-old Wanda Hall. "I wanted to hurt him. I figured he was having a good time some place else. So I'd have a good time on his money."

Canada's government has started penny-pinching after reports showed it spent $5,500,000 in the red during November. The only other month since the war that Canada hasn't shown a surplus was in September of this year.

A diplomat from troubled Asia disclosed today that Canada is selling military goods to both parties of a dispute which could at any time erupt into war. The charge came from Mustafiz Karmali, ambassador at large for Pakistan, who said both his country and neighboring India have bought military equipment from Canada. He added that the two countries are involved in an explosive dispute over the state of Kashmir.

A Little Bit of Everything

Gordon W. Olive, native Montrealer who built his first radio transmitter as an experiment in his home in 1912, today made the CBC's first director-general of engineering services.

Burly Frank Mahagan of Port Colborne, Ont., was today remembered for one week on a murder charge in the cement-block slaying of George Morrison with whom he shared a rough shack in the bush there.

Police said 43-year-old Mahagan came to them last night and confessed the killing during a drunken brawl yesterday and threw his body in a nearby quarry.

The British Board of Film sent an ultimatum to Hollywood today: Cut out sadism films, or else. "We are determined to stop this unhealthy trend," the board declared, adding that from now on films with a basically sadistic theme will be banned in Britain.

Chen Pleads For U.S. Help

By ARTHUR GOUL

TAMPEL, Formosa, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Gen. Chen, military commander of Formosa, predicted today the Chinese Communists would launch an amphibious assault on Formosa next March.

The attack on Green Island, Chiang Kai-shek's island fortress, cannot be made before then because of unfavorable weather, Chen said in an interview.

The General accompanied his prediction with a plea for military aid from the United States.

"If Taiwan (Formosa) falls to the Communists it will be impossible to defend the Philippines or southern Asia," he said.

"The entire American defense strategy based on the Pacific Islands will crumble and become worthless."

Ship Fire Extinguished

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17.—(CP)—A two-hour battle by the crew of the tugboat Prosperity, assisted by another tug yesterday extinguished a blaze that broke out in the engine room.

Captain Earl H. Brock, skipper of the tug Prosperity, reported the radio telephone shortly after 1:30 p.m., that the fire had been extinguished and the damaged tug refloated.

The Prosperity had been beached on the sandy shore about two miles south of Sechart, about 20 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Tuner Tuned Up

GRINVILLE, S.C.—(UP)—Recorder James M. Richardson leveled a $500-20 days fine on a piano tuner who said he drank alcoholic liquor to "tune up his nerves."

De-Socialization Set in Australia

New Prime Minister Plans To Wipe Out Labor Moves

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Prime Minister-elect Robert Gordon Menzies, faced with the complicated task of de-socializing a partially Socialist state, plans to ask parliament for a law requiring a popular referendum on any future proposals for nationalization.

Menzies is the 44-year-old Liberal party leader who led the anti-Socialist opposition to a victory which swept the Labor party out of power in Australia. He is busy with coalition cabinet of Liberals and the Country party.

His views, many of which were based on the thousands of words he spoke during the bitter election campaign, were summarized by his press secretary, Robert Willoughby.

FACTUAL PROBLEM

Menzies will tackle the de-socialization job as a problem in theory but as one of common sense and hard practical fact.

For reasons of political strategy, he has declined to reveal the order in which his government will tackle the job of unwinding socialism, but he said that he will definitely ask parliament for a law requiring that the people be permitted to vote the issue on every proposed nationalization.

In the election, the voting public had a definite mandate against nationalization after a campaign based on private enterprise vs. socialism. The Liberal and Country parties won 74 seats to Labor's 46, with one seat still undecided in the House of Representatives.

While the Menzies group lacks a majority in the Senate, which has restricted rights, the prime minister does not expect the Labor majority there to block legislation passed by the House of Representatives.

NEW ELECTION

If it does, Menzies will dissolve the parliament and call for new elections, so confident is he that he could win again, perhaps by an even greater margin.

One Menzies' first moves will be to wipe the nationalization of Australia's banks off the record books. The old house voted nationalization, but the law was declared invalid by the Privy Council. Voting the Australian constitution, the law is not dead until it has been repealed by house vote.

Menzies has emphasized that he will not de-socialize all of Labor's programs. He has said that he favors socialization of any public facilities that exploit or are detrimental to the public interest.

Police Probe

Vancouver Death

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17.—(CP)—Van St. Laurent, a lighthouse keeper from Cape Beale, Vancouver Island, died in hospital yesterday—a few hours after he was found unconscious on the floor of a hotel washroom. He had apparently been in a fight. His face was bruised and his shirt torn. Police are investigating.

Poles Flee

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Six Polish airmen, come with their wives and children, fled their country by plane today and landed on the Baltic island of Bornholm, Danish police said. The pilot told police the six airmen, four wives and three children were en route to England.

More Jobless But More Jobs

In there won't be as much farm work available next year. But many people—in lumbering, fishing and farming—are covered by unemployment insurance. For that reason, some of them are the most serious cases.

B.C. MARITIMES

In British Columbia and the Maritime provinces, many people normally work on farms during the summer and in the woods in the winter. With reduced output in the forest industries, many of them have not found jobs this winter. There is no estimate of their numbers.

In addition, present indications are that there won't be as much farm work available next year. Economist says, however, the number of people working—an estimated $135,000 on Aug. 20—is the highest in Canada's history for that time of year. Late August is a peak period of employment in Canada.

Most of these were working 30 hours a week or more. The economist says, however, that there's likely to be a gradual increase in unemployment for some time yet unless foreign-currency problems change and permit Canadian exports to increase.

India Bill Preserves British Law Rights

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(Reuters)—A bill made law yesterday preserving for India after she becomes a republic Jan. 26 the rights and privileges at present enjoyed under British law.

Called "The India (Consequential Provisions) Bill," it was one of 30 bills given the Royal assent yesterday. Parliament was prorogued yesterday.

Incentive Pay Is $3 Millions

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The Electric Company yesterday announced its 10th annual incentive bonus plan. The plan would total $3,000,000 and be distributed among 1,000 employees. The average incentive cheque will amount to $2,500, bring the total earnings of the average workers for the year to $6,078, the firm said. The firm produces welding equipment.

$100,000 Fire Guts Factory

MONTREAL, Dec. 17.—(CP)—A two-alarm fire early this morning gutted a three-story factory manufacturing fluorescent lighting equipment in east-central Montreal.

There was no one injured in the spectacular blaze which broke out in a building in a tenement and factory district near Amherst and Craig streets.

Unofficial estimates placed the damage at more than $100,000. Most of these were working 30 hours a week or more. The economist says, however, that there's likely to be a gradual increase in unemployment for some time yet unless foreign-currency problems change and permit Canadian exports to increase.

Broadway Ulcers Go When Fed Hollywood

By Virginia MacPherson

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17.—(BUP)—Comes now a good switch. In a town where half the natives guzzle milk and baby food to quiet their ulcers we find Robert Keith, who came to Hollywood to CURE his.

One week in this maelstrom of frustrated stars and nervous producers and Keith's stomach was as calm as a studio with a million-dollar hit on its hands.

"No more milk," he said. "No more cream. I can even take a drink now."

And he can't for the life of him understand why ulcers are supposed to be an occupational hazard out here.

"Where in the world is there a nicer place to work?" Keith asked. All this sunshine... all these beautiful women to work with... all these nice long vacations between pictures... all this no-noise.

You get very little of any of this on the Broadway stage, he said. There, if you are unlucky enough to get stuck in a hit, you work all night—day a lot of dough—and you spend the same time over and over again until you get so bored you get a pain in your middle.

Actor Keith was in "Mr. Roberts" for so many nights, he said, the very thought of taking his lines again gave him shooting pains.

"I don't mean a tummy ache," he said. "I mean agony. They carried me out of there on a stretcher."

"My doctor told me I had to get away from the city."

INTO NORTH

Fly Day, 2 Nights, In Dark

Five airmen of RCAP 435 transport squadron based at Edmonton have set a record for night flying.

Going north from Edmonton, they flew all day and two nights—without seeing the sun. Leaving here before dawn on Wednesday, they raced the sunrise northeast to Kitchikan, on the Arctic coast, where the sun never rises during the winter months.

Coming back 1,200 miles to Edmonton, they winged through the darkness arriving here at 2 p.m. Thursday. The Dakota aircraft brought out 20 airmen from the lovely Arctic outpost to spend Christmas with their families.

The five crewmen were F.O. E. J. Trotter, P.O. J. H. Sweet, F.O. T. E. W. Robson and LAC J. L. Houghton.

Trolley Service For Christmas

System Prepared For Rush Season

Special transit system service for Christmas shoppers, and special service for Christmas, Boxing Day and New Year's, were announced today by ETS Superintendent Thomas Ferrier.

Shoppers will be aided by extra street cars and coaches on all routes each day during shopping hours until next Monday, with a three minute service on main routes.

"Every available vehicle will be in service," said Mr. Ferrier. "But customers can help speed up service by leaving by the curb end and on vehicles so equipped."

Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve, a special service will be in operation after midnight, with last cars and trolley coaches leaving 101 street and Jasper at 1 a.m.

Both Sundays, special service will be in effect, with last cars and trolley coaches leaving 101 street and Jasper at 1 a.m.

On Sunday afternoon at the Edmonton Museum of Arts, a program of caroling by the Junior choir of Rosedale church, under the leadership of Richard Carroll, will be given. Miss Dolores Chapelle will be pianist. The public is invited. Museum will be closed Christmas and New Year's days.

Snowfall Is Offspring As 2 Air Masses Wed

General Winter pulled off a first winter movement on Edmonton Thursday to bring down the city's first major snowfall of the year.

Moving in his forces from the north and west, he combined cold Arctic air with warm Pacific air to blanket the city in almost six inches of snow.

A lot of snow of cold air moved southeast from the high pressure area near Norman Wells, explains downtown meteorologist George W. Robertson.

This attack young around past week from Prince Rupert, B.C., to Saskatoon, including both Edmonton and Calgary.

From the Pacific, the General moved in warm, wet air on a large front. This warm air moved in over the cold air over a wide area from Prince Rupert, B.C., to Saskatoon, including both Edmonton and Calgary.

Combination of warm and cold air forced unique conditions resulting in heavy snowfall over this area, says Mr. Robertson. Heavy snowfall resulted when the moist warm air was raised to a high altitude and cooled.

Heaviest snowfall occurred on the west slope of the mountains at the north Pacific and was lifted over the mountains. A fall of 15 inches was measured at Prince George.

Surpluses and Exports

To export, you should have a surplus. You can't economically export grain or coal or beef or anything until the domestic market is first satisfied. It would be poor economy to pay export costs on something you can sell at home.

Consequently the whole question of exporting natural gas is predicated on a surplus of natural gas over and above the normal needs of Alberta people and Alberta industries.

This point is inherent in all the legislation governing the export of natural gas from this province.

The act states clearly that Alberta must be satisfied first. It states just as clearly that should the surplus become exhausted, it shall be legal to divert from the sources reserved for export such quantities of gas as are required to meet the needs of Alberta users.

In other words, a surplus is deemed to exist only so long as Alberta consumers have an adequate supply. And export becomes illegal when that domestic supply is not adequate.

This is the basic policy of the government and it is a policy continuously supported by The Edmonton Bulletin.

Indeed, The Bulletin has always been vehemently positive on that point. On July 5, 1949 we said:

"The government's position has been that Alberta consumers must be assured of a continuous supply (of natural gas) at approximately prevailing rates before the surplus may be exported. . . Any legislation must consider this."

In the face of these circumstances, the Journal newspaper makes a bumbling and frivolous attack on what it calls "artful ploys in newspapers friendly to the pressure groups."

If the Journal refers to The Bulletin's advocacy of the application for export by pipeline as proposed to build a pipeline through an all-Canadian route as contrasted with other companies that propose to pipe Alberta gas down into the United States, it is indulging in a weak and piffling argument that means nothing.

If there is a surplus, and the Dinning report says there is, and if gas is to be exported, that gas should be exported in a manner that will develop Edmonton and bring revenue to Edmonton and to Canada, rather than to the United States.

That is The Bulletin's policy and no silly carping by the Journal is going to change it.

Those Christmas Trees Are Valuable

Aid comment on Edmonton's civic spirit is inherent in Parks Superintendent A. C. Patterson's plea for special constables to protect park areas from seekers after free Christmas trees.

That five alleged despoilers of the public domain now face police charges is just as superfluous as Mr. Patterson's statement that scores of persons with axes and saws and covetous hearts have been warned that it's an offence to cut trees on park lands.

The fact remains that Edmontonians can't be trusted to preserve their city's natural beauty.

We should all be ashamed. Most of us are.

We should remember that when a man cuts down a 30 foot spruce on a city river bank (as one reportedly did last Sunday), the city cannot be held responsible.

Parks officials can plant a 15 foot one in its place—provided the loss is discovered—at a cost of $30, but then we would have to wait 10 to 15 years before the tree grows to a height of 30 feet.

Those who try to get their Christmas tree on the cheap, by stealing from a river bank or ravine, deserve no sympathy.

They should be impressed with the fact that Edmonton wants to retain its impressive array of tree-lined river banks and parks, so that our children and their children can continue to enjoy the beauty of nature as it now exists in our natural park areas.

That Men Might Know Their God

The imminence of the birthday of Jesus Christ, divine Son of God and human son of the Blessed Virgin Mary, quite naturally provokes this question:

Why did the Second Person of the Holy Trinity take on flesh and be born into the world as a human being?

This question as to the purpose of the Incarnation of God into human form goes to the very fundament of the Christian Faith.

God's Son "was made flesh and dwelt among us" that men might see and know their God.

It should be remembered that the entire spiritual history of the human race is the history of God's constant efforts to reveal Himself to the human mind.

God spoke to humanity through the prophets. He spoke to humanity through the philosophers. And wherever even the pagan gods, fictitious gods, were made, demonstrated qualities of kindness and mercy and love, it was the Holy Spirit directing the searching hearts of men towards these qualities in their myths.

Man had searched for God eternally, but such was man's blindness that he could not see Him even when God revealed Himself most plainly.

So history was foreordained from the beginning of time, God Himself, in the Person of His Son, came down to earth in order to reveal to men, who knew not the Father, the Father.

This inseparable oneness between God the Father and God the Son is emphasized continually in Jesus' teaching.

"Ye neither know me, nor my Father; if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also."

"I and my Father are one."

"I am the true vine and my Father is the husbandman."

"He that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?"

The revelation of God to man, then, is the primary purpose of the Incarnation. And even the Crucifixion and Resurrection are secondary to it because, without the revelation of God through Christ, the Crucifixion and Resurrection would have no meaning.

Redemption depends upon the fact of the Incarnation.

The salvation of men was purchased, not by the death of a man on the Cross, but by the death of God on the Cross.

ODDS AND ENDS

Your Reporter to Get A Goat For Christmas

Charlie Robertson of Italy is going to give me a goat for Christmas.

The stark simplicity of the announcement does not begin to express the convulsive significance of it.

It is perhaps the most profound statement of the dying year.

Here I was bewailing in this space the fatality of the year that has been tragically closed.

And then I open my mouth and utter the words, "I am giving you a goat for Christmas."

But let Charlie Robertson speak for himself. Charlie says:

"Each Christmas it is my custom to present a gift to someone who will fulfill a childhood dream. This year I am sending a goat to my favorite columnist."

Many will be delivered to your home. Christmas Eve. Rise it a special goat and produce very fine kids.

"At first I planned that this should come as a complete surprise to you, but after consulting Nanny's comfort, I decided you should have time to prepare suitable quarters for her."

"This will not cure your frustration. Now would I want it to do so as your yearning for a goat is a way after any other heart. It will fulfill that childhood dream."

May he be wise for your Christmas.

"You wished, 'CHARLIE ROBERTSON.'"

Everything In The Open

Now since the matter of my goat frustration has been aired in public and since I have made bold to give Charlie's goat to you, I think it only fair that I reply to Charlie's challenge in the same manner.

So, then, if for Charlie Robertson of Italy and for anyone else who happens to be looking over my shoulder:

Dear Charlie:

I have received yours of the 11th, just, with some breathless news. And I may say that my family and myself are all awfully excited about the goat.

I have also been told that you are suffering from a rather severe cold and I trust that the goat will be not susceptible to such ailments. On second thoughts, however, a cold may be the very thing you need, so I have decided to send you a goat.

I note that you refer to my goat by the name of "Nanny." I hope you will not be offended if I should take the liberty of changing that name to "Amelia," as it was always "Amelia" in a former life. I am sure you will also be the name of a great deal of mine whose facial comings were cast markedly in goat-like lines.

You will be glad to know that the goat is well on its way for the reception of Amelia on Christmas Eve.

The goat is now being well cared for and I promise you that I will try to be a good parent.

I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat, and I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat, and I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat.

I don't want to develop inhibitions or complexes just before the reception of Amelia on Christmas Eve.

I look forward to seeing you and to the goat's arrival, and I promise you that I will try to be a good parent.

I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat, and I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat, and I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat.

I don't want to develop inhibitions or complexes just before the reception of Amelia on Christmas Eve.

I look forward to seeing you and to the goat's arrival, and I promise you that I will try to be a good parent.

I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat, and I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat, and I am sure you will be very pleased to see the goat.

THE OBLIQUE APPROACH

Letters to the Editor

Not Like Picture
Editor, Bulletin—Like Edmonton. To be truthful, I think it's one of the nicest cities I've been in.

I'm a girl from British Columbia, but have been living here since August. What has always fascinated me (I'm not saying it does now) is the big, imposing Macdonald hotel. This summer I saw pictures of it on postcards; pictures taken at an angle where everything but the hotel's surroundings are shown. Then I came to Edmonton and gave up on it. I was disappointed. The hotel is not as imposing as I had imagined. It is a simple, unimposing building, and the surroundings are not as beautiful as I had imagined. I was disappointed. The hotel is not as imposing as I had imagined. It is a simple, unimposing building, and the surroundings are not as beautiful as I had imagined.

There were two girls who didn't have tickets, and they were provided with extra chairs near the front, and who would be the kindness of the extra chairs, I thought. I was disappointed. The hotel is not as imposing as I had imagined. It is a simple, unimposing building, and the surroundings are not as beautiful as I had imagined.

There was that other moment, the atmosphere of the play? Then there were the two girls who didn't have tickets, and they were provided with extra chairs near the front, and who would be the kindness of the extra chairs, I thought. I was disappointed. The hotel is not as imposing as I had imagined. It is a simple, unimposing building, and the surroundings are not as beautiful as I had imagined.

There was that other moment, the atmosphere of the play? Then there were the two girls who didn't have tickets, and they were provided with extra chairs near the front, and who would be the kindness of the extra chairs, I thought. I was disappointed. The hotel is not as imposing as I had imagined. It is a simple, unimposing building, and the surroundings are not as beautiful as I had imagined.

Why Mercy For Killer of Chinese?

A jury remains one of the traditional parts of our system of justice and yet one is constantly amazed at the inconsistency of mercy found in the decisions of juries.

In Edmonton a jury found Joseph Gilbert guilty of murder and then added a strong recommendation for mercy.

If the jury believed the evidence upon which it presumably found the accused guilty, it must have believed that he had gone to the house of a defenceless old man and with deliberate intention of robbing him.

It must have believed that in the course of this deliberate criminal act, Sam Kee had been injured to death.

In what way does this suggest that the accused is entitled to any degree of mercy? Can he be held responsible for the accidental circumstance that Sam Kee had tried to prove home from this alleged robbery?

Can it be argued that Sam Kee had been kept out of the house and thereby made it unnecessary for his life to be taken?

One would almost think that the jury blamed the ancient Sam Kee for placing Gilbert in the position of having to forego the robbery or else take Sam Kee. Since, instead of calling for mercy, the jury recommended a strong recommendation for mercy, the old man alone, the accused took part in an attack that resulted in Sam Kee's death. Gilbert should be shown mercy. Why?

There are cases where under circumstances of mental stress, or where because of certain misleading causes, a jury might

TODAY'S MESSAGE

A Word For The Old

When Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was 75, he was still young in spirit and retained a great zest for life. Once someone asked him for the secret of his youthfulness, and he pointed to an apple tree and replied:

"Do you see that tree over there? The secret of that tree is that it grows new wood every year. That is what I plan to do."

The apple tree that does not grow a little wood each year soon dies. There is a lesson in this for every human being. It is especially applicable to those who are advanced in years and may be tempted to at last and "let the world go by."

Because the time of physical degeneration has set in, older folks must slacken their activities. But they must still keep alert mentally, for only too often a mental letting down may precede a general breaking down of physical health.

More important, however, than keeping mentally fit is preserving spiritual vitality and growth. No matter how old, men and women must keep growing spiritually. Indeed, the need for spiritual growth often becomes more apparent when the twilight years have come and the mind naturally grows with more and more frequency to thoughts of the hereafter.

Age never brings a relaxation in the spiritual struggle that begins in early childhood. On the other hand, it may reach a pitch greater than ever before experienced. The old have special temptations to despondency, to skepticism, even to despair.

How are the old to keep up the good fight, to keep growing spiritual wood? Certainly they must become ever more fervent in prayer. They must cultivate the habit of frequent and tranquil meditation upon the great comforting truths of religion. Above all, they must enkindle in themselves, a new spirit of faith and trust in God. The old should approach the final summoning not merely with a heavy heart, but with the expectation of that new and eternal birth which means the fullness of growth in the glory and knowledge of God.

Anglican Prayer Book Anniversary Observed

BELFAST—A pageant commemorating the 400th anniversary of the Anglican Book of Common Prayer was held here in the great Episcopal Cathedral. It marked the first time the edifice has been used for such a purpose.

The audience was seated in the nave, facing a large stage erected inside the cathedral's west door. Members of the Religious Drama Society of Northern Ireland presented the play.

A controversy started when it was announced that the pageant would be held inside the cathedral. Critics of the idea insisted it would be an act of "gross irreverence."

The Bishop, however, insisted that the religious drama was a part of the liturgical life of the church. He said that the play was a "dramatization of the lives of the saints" and that it was a "part of the church's worship."

Parents are specially invited to hear and see the play. The play is a dramatization of the lives of the saints and is a part of the church's worship.

Church Gets 40-Bell Netherlands Carillon

NEW YORK—A new carillon of 40 bells—cast in The Netherlands—was blessed at St. Martin's Protestant Episcopal church in Harlem here during a service attended by 2,500 persons.

The bells—each weigh 7500 pounds—will be hung in St. Martin's bell tower, which is 90 feet high, by Dec. 19. It will be dedicated on that date by Bishop Charles K. Gilbert of the Diocese of New York.

Among those attending the blessing ceremony was Willem Crouwels, the Netherlands consular general, who told the gathering that "these bells are a symbol of the friendship between our two countries."

Dr. John H. Johnson, rector of the church, gave the sermon after the blessing ceremony. He said that "people who are indifferent to the voice of the church will listen to the bells, which will tell them the voice of God." He declared that "these bells will speak to men and women and call them to church—not necessarily this church, but some church."

The three-and-a-half octave carillon, second in size only to the 75-bell carillon at Riverside church here, cost $30,000.

There will be congregational singing of family anthems and carols from 7:15 to 7:30 p.m.

NEW YORK—More than 80 communities throughout the United States co-operated in the Religion in American Life campaign last year. It was conducted from Nov. 1 to 24, it was reported here. According to the campaign, the drive achieved "major success" in bolstering spiritual and financial support for churches and synagogues.

U.S. CHURCH MEMBERSHIP INCREASES

Latest available statistics, which are for 1948, show that church members are 52.9 per cent of the population of the United States.

The distribution is practically unchanged—40 per cent Protestant, 20 per cent Catholic, 10 per cent Jewish, 10 per cent Muslim, 10 per cent other.

The percentage increase was a 1.0 per cent over the previous year—Protestant, 2.8 per cent; Catholic, 5.0 per cent.

Swords to Share In Education

Wartime Hangar Now
Leading Rural School

By Don Flach
Bulletin Staff Writer

BARRHEAD, Dec. 17.—Modern version of the "beating swords into plowshares" legend has been accomplished at Barrhead.

A wartime hangar used in training battle pilots has been converted into one of the most modern community centres and school structures in rural Alberta.

Official ceremonies were held yesterday when Education Minister Hon. Ivan Casey opened the building to fulfill a vital place in the community. The building had been a hangar at Ensign, near Calgary.

CONCERT BY PUPILS

Only a short time ago as June to the thirty site on which the building stands northwest of Barrhead was a field of newly-broken sod. Last night, nearly 1,500 residents of the community gathered to witness its first function—a concert by the students of the school.

Measuring 180 feet by 130 feet, the $130,000 building as it now stands contains an auditorium nearly 100 feet long and 75 feet wide which will serve as a meeting place for the community's activities and as a gymnasium for the school's physical training and recreational activities.

Classrooms line the first and second floors on the east and southern sides of the building. On the west is an annex which houses a kitchen for domestic science classes and for preparing hot meals for students brought to the school from within the 30 mile radius of Barrhead school division. After class hours the kitchen and adjoining dining hall will serve the community's banquet requirements.

MAJOR DEVELOPMENT

The building marks the beginning of an educational and recreational development for Barrhead that will cover nearly 40 acres. Construction of a primary and elementary school is planned to replace the one-room schools that have been moved onto the site and which must suffice for the present. Playing fields for football, baseball, softball and tennis are contemplated in the ambitious program this northern Alberta town has mapped out for itself.

In addition at least six acres of the area will be used for agricultural plots for practical education of students who will make their livelihood and spend their lives in the purely agricultural community.

The new building is the focal point of the centralization of educational facilities in the enlarged Barrhead School Division which has reached its greatest momentum in the last two years. Nearly 750 students are brought to the centre daily from over the division.

OPTIONAL COURSES

In only the first year of its operation, optional courses in drama, art, music, boxing, folk-dancing, gymnastics, home economics, wood-working and animal science have been made available which would not have been possible through the one-room district school which is gradually being eliminated.

Division superintendent and master of ceremonies for opening function of the new school and numerous members of the divisional board, C. Carl Mast, chairman, W. Sutherland, Thomas Poirier and Charles Yull, Barrhead mayor.

W. E. Frame, chief superintendent of schools, was also present for the opening ceremonies. Principal of the new school is W. B. L. Jenken and Nick Miller is president of the Home and School Association.

ONE OF THE BUSIEST towns immediately north of Edmonton is Barrhead. Heart of a rich farming district, it is an area where community projects get the backing of town and district. How the two work together is reflected in the fair grounds, the district's sports record and today in the magnificent new school just opened, a building that in itself is a community gathering place.

Barrhead Sports Group Is Active

Town's Teams Take Top Spot In District

Growth of the Barrhead Sports Association is typical of the town spirit which is fast building this hustling Alberta community.

All-out community effort has built the town one of the finest sports centres in the west and has turned out some of Alberta's finest hockey and baseball teams.

Sport in Barrhead developed steadily during the past 22 years as the community grew from a struggling village to a town of 1500.

FARMER DONATION

The Sports Association was founded 22 years ago when 12 acres adjoining the village was donated by the United Farmers of Alberta. By 1945 the need for residential property in the rapidly expanding town made it necessary to take over the sports ground. The village community responded in mass.

council immediately purchased 30 acres on the northwest side of the town.

An architect was commissioned to draw plans for a complete sports centre to meet all future needs. This plan included two baseball and four softball diamonds, curling rink, arena, swimming pool, new track, trap-shooting range, midway and farm implement display pavilion.

Little money was in the sports association treasury in 1945 with which to start the ambitious plan. Rather than accept money from the village council, the association asked for volunteer labor. The community responded in mass.

District farmers brought tractors to town to dig and level the ground. This completed, a volunteer army set to work to build a baseball park. The ladies followed their manfolk, wielding paint brushes. Thirty acres of summer fallow was soon transformed into one of the most attractive sports centres of any town in the west.

TEAMS WIN

The energy and enthusiasm of the new organization showed its worth in its first season when the senior hockey team won the local league championship and went on to win the provincial hockey championship.

Both senior and junior teams have been consistent league winners in both hockey and baseball.

This year the junior ball team reached the provincial semi-finals losing out to Camrose.

Last year the Sports Association celebrated its 22nd birthday by sponsoring a thousand dollar baseball tournament with all the best teams in northern Alberta competing. This was repeated this year and will be an annual event on the July 1 sports day.

The annual sports day now draws 11,000 persons and is one of the important calendar events in this district 30 miles northwest of Edmonton.

More British Farmers Are Need in Canada

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—Federal farm-labor experts said yesterday more British farm workers should be brought to Canada to correct the "undesirable lack of balance" that resulted from large-scale immigration of European farm laborers.

Dominion-Provincial farm-labor conference delegates indicated Canadian agriculture could absorb only a few more displaced persons in the future.

G. V. Haythorne, labor department economist, told the conference that greater mechanization and more efficient production had reduced the labor requirements of agriculture. There now was also more difficulty in finding jobs for farm workers thrown out of work after the peak harvest season.

Mr. Haythorne said there had been around 1,000,000 persons employed on Canadian farms in 1948. There now were 1,125,000.

There also appeared to be a need of re-locating some people now living on unproductive farms. There were about 200,000 farms in Canada which consumed more goods and services than they produced for sale off the farms.

LESS U.S. NEEDS

Delegates were told, too, there would be less need for Canadian workers to help bring in United States crops next year.

David Fessenden, farm-placement officer of the U.S. employment service, said there probably would be no future demand for Canadian harvest crews for the U.S. western grain crops.

The question of immigration of British farm workers came up after discussion of the problems raised by the import of thousands of displaced persons since the war to work on farms for one year.

W. W. Dawson, chief of the federal farm-placement branch, said only three per cent of the displaced persons had been problem cases. The rest had been quietly absorbed into the country.

PREFER BRITONS

Delegates from British Columbia and Ontario reported, however, that they knew of farmers in their provinces who wished to employ a full-time hired man. Many of them were reluctant to employ a displaced person, but wanted to get someone from the British Isles who could probably adapt himself more quickly to Canadian conditions.

They added that Europeans were coming to Canada more quickly than Anglo-Saxons and were causing an "undesirable lack of balance" in the population structure.

Seek Cheap Way For Sea Water To Be Drinkable

By GLENN MARTZ

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(UPI)—The current water shortage in New York and other coastal cities was expected today to spur congressional efforts to find an economical way to make sea water drinkable.

Sponsors of more than a dozen bills to authorize the capture of experimental plants told newsmen they're confident the necessary legislation will be approved at the forthcoming session of Congress.

Rep. Gordon L. McDonough, R., Calif., sponsor of one of the measures, said the feasibility of such a project depended upon whether an economical process could be developed for taking the salt out of sea water.

Jailbreakers Get Terms

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17.—(CP)—

Two convicts who participated in a daring escape here last April were yesterday sentenced to one year in prison.

Kenneth O'Keefe, 23, and Leonard Sparks, 25, broke out of the brig of a Victoria boat, shackled their police guard with his handcuffs, and fled when the vessel docked here.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson told them: "This was a particularly brutal attack on an officer who was carrying out a job in the line of duty."

Jehovah's Witnesses Pose Quebec Problem

JOLIETTE, Que., Dec. 17.—(CP)—Police Chief Valmore Lapierre said today he feared "popular reaction" if charges were laid against the men who allegedly took two young girl Witnesses of Jehovah to Montreal and tried to have them jailed.

Chief Lapierre said he received office... the Joliette population a visit last night from two men in "all steamed up" The Witnesses who said they were speaking in are persistent. They have been the name of the Witnesses and peddling around with Bible in hand for six months. If they lay a charge against those who want to get rid of them and have peace, I fear the popular reaction. Regrettable things may happen...

The chief said he told Couture that "your girls receive at least $120 a week for the fine noise they make in this town."

Miss Parsons, who is from Sarnia, Ont., and Miss Lundell, from Toronto, were expelled from Joliette last February after conducting similar activities in the New Brunswick town.

Centralization Worth Is Shown

Barrhead Area Leader In Set-up of Schools

Consolidation and centralization of school divisions in the Barrhead district has proved an outstanding success.

Barrhead school division No. 59 was established on Jan. 1, 1942. At that time there were 56 school districts with 1851 pupils taught by 34 qualified teachers in 74 classrooms.

Now 2,034 pupils are taught in 46 rooms by 66 teachers. There are 25 buses transporting youngsters to school compared to only two one year ago.

With consolidation it was possible to close many of the small one-room schools.

Barrhead, at the centre of the district, has expanded from an enrollment of 380 pupils and eight teachers to 747 pupils and 25 teachers. Barrhead school buildings consist of a large converted hangar, four-room and two-room buildings, and six one room classrooms.

Teachers are finding centralization a great boon to pupils transported by bus to the new larger units from remote areas. Costs have also been reduced because of mass buying of school supplies and equipment.

Peer Is Glum As Act Cuts Lords' Power

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(Reuters)

—Only a handful of peers attended the House of Lords yesterday to watch a ceremony by which a parliament act, curbing the upper chamber's powers, became law.

As a Royal Commission gave royal assent to this act, Lord Salisbury, leader of the opposition, who had put up a bitter but unavailing fight against it, sat alone on the front opposition bench, hands in pockets and eyes on the floor.

The parliament act reduces from two years to one the power of the House of Lords to hold up legislation passed by Commons. In the future, at the end of a year, such legislation may be passed into law without the sanction of the House of Lords.

MONTREAL, Dec. 17.—Nine tons of turkey will be required to serve passengers on CNR dining cars during the Christmas holiday season, J. A. Melrose said today. This amount is only a part of the huge food stores laid in by the national system for its Yule menus.

The dining car department estimates that 1,200 turkeys weighing 12,000 pounds will serve about 16,000 travellers. Each dining car seats 40 persons and for each sitting three turkeys are required.

JAPS FORSAKE GODS, LEAN TO CHRISTIANITY

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The Second World War has opened to the Japanese people a broad vista of Christianity that may lead to one of history's greatest conversions.

This is the opinion of Father R. Cavalli, who writes in the current issue of Civiltà Cattolica, Jesuit organ, of the fading power of the Japanese gods.

One of the chief activities of the Jesuits (Society of Jesus) is missionary work. Saint Francis Xavier, a member of the order and considered by some Catholics authorities the greatest missionary since the Apostles, landed at Kagoshima, Japan, Aug. 15, 1549 — 400 years ago.

From there he travelled to many a Japanese city, preaching the gospel. But he met much opposition.

Today, however, writes Father Cavalli, Japan's opposition to Christianity "has given way to an attitude of tolerance. If not down right regard and esteem."

"It was not rare after Japan's defeat," he wrote, "that some of its people went around saying that 'the God of the Christians has beaten the gods of the nation.'"

"Buddhism and Shintoism lack his person."

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17.—(CP)—Garrett Weston, a gentleman farmer from East Sooke, B.C., has sold a romantic novel in the Saturday Evening Post after years of "slavery, revising, rewriting and sweating."

Teachers, Pupils Get Advantages

Centralization Means Class Work Extended

Opening of the Barrhead school is an event which the teachers have looked forward to since last April.

As they watched cranes swing the giant timbers into place and saw the building take form, they dreamed of a centralized school where facilities would offer diverse reasons in all the various educational fields.

Today, teachers witnessed the opening of the fine new school. It became a reality as the benefits of a complete plan school became an integral part of the lives of 700 students.

MANY ADVANTAGES

The variety of advantages now offered students is extremely gratifying to the whole teaching group. Their interest lies in the development of the "whole child" in the training of his intellectual faculties, the development of his innate abilities, and of acceptable social behavior and in the building up of appreciation of fair play and good sportsmanship.

The needs of the rural child, they feel, can be met in the new school, where one teacher must work with all age groups.

Also of interest to them is the lengthening of the student's school life. Today, a full grade 12 standing is the goal.

LIFE MORE PLEASANT

From the teacher's viewpoint, living conditions in a centre served by a centralized school are much more pleasant. Modern housing, swimming, tennis, golf, and various recreational attractions, the students and to the community as a whole, they feel. And they accept and welcome the challenge.

MPs Grammatical Sortie Is Routed by Professor

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Progressive Conservative members of parliament nearly wiped out a bill of expurgating disreputable words. Only the timely intervention of a professor of English preserved their existence.

Donald Fleming, member for Toronto, insisted in the Commons that the corporation directors were grammatically correct in being expurgated. In effect, he denounced that they resolve their actions into directions of corporate laws.

Specifically, Mr. Fleming was objecting to the use of nouns as adjectives in such phrases as "corporation director," "taxation year," and "passenger and goods train."

BLAST AT GOVERNMENT

Known as a parliamentary expert on grammar, he withered the usage during a blast at the government for faulty English.

Looking over a bill embodying income-tax changes, Mr. Fleming objected to its draftsmanship in discovering the presence of adjectival nouns "in violation of the rules of good English grammar."

Finance Minister Abbott, complaining that Mr. Fleming should have spotted the alleged offences when the bill was first introduced last year, promised to have them deleted.

Had the effects of Mr. Fleming's attack been confined to page corporation directors and draftsmen of government bills, their doom

Rate System Unfair Alberta Tells CPR

By John Leblanc

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—With a final flurry of controversy, the Royal Commission on Transportation yesterday closed its 1949 sessions for a six-week recess.

The commission, in session here since Nov. 1, will resume next Jan. 30 for the concluding sittings, expected to take about two months. Its long inquiry into national transportation problems.

The argument at the last sitting developed between the province of Alberta and the Canadian Pacific Railway over the railway's controversial system of "aged charges" on rates, which some of the provinces want to have abolished. Under the "aged charges" system, the railways give contractual rates to shippers who guarantee a specified portion of their business to the carriers. Alberta, however, J. J. Frazer, minister of transport, declared, this was unfair to small shippers.

Moreover, it was defended by C. E. Jefferson, CPR vice-president, for traffic, who declared that shippers with only a small volume of business had the opportunity of getting special charges. Mr. Jefferson also gave the commission evidence indicating that the special rates, actually yield the CPR more revenue per average

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Was it murder? Or was it suicide? Or did Thelma Todd accidentally die 14 years ago today?

That riddle has been cause for debate in Hollywood ever since the blonde star was found dead in her garage on morning in 1935. Here's how the death occurred:

Thelma, the funniest female school teacher from Lawrenceville, Miss., went to a Saturday night party at the Trocadero in honor of the British comic, Stanley Lupino.

A chauffeur picked her up between 2:30 and 3 a.m. and drove her back to her safe at the beach. She appeared quiet and tired.

When she waved goodbye to the driver at four Sunday morning, it was the last time she was seen alive.

GAS POISONING
At 10:15 Monday morning, Niles Todd's maid opened the garage door and found the actress slumped over the open door of her car. She was a mixture of rumpled and down and mink coats and jewelry scattered all about her.

The station key was turned on and the heavy garage doors were closed. There were no notes or other clues. A lengthy investigation ensued.

Was it murder? "No," Todd's lawyer thought so. "I believe someone knows something about this case which should be told," he said. He added that gangsters had tried to entice her to put cambril in her car. But she opposed it.

ACCIDENT THEORY
What about suicide? Young Ida Lupino, daughter of the "True Yarns" king of humor, told Niles:

"The girl was in a state of mind. She had been drinking. She was alone. She was tired. She was sad. She was lonely. She was in love. She was in pain. She was in despair. She was in death."

Honeymoon is Over

Some purvey personal observations brought on by the talk of Ed (Stinky) Stanley's trade by Boston Braves to New York Giants.

The honeymoon may be over for hockey players who like to shop around, to play one team against the other at contract signing time.

Within two or three days, if it hasn't already, announcement will be forthcoming to the effect that former Eddie Shore's Oakland team of the Pacific Coast Hockey League has folded.

The Oaks weren't doing any business at the gate. Hence the decision to pack it up. Players will be disposed of by sales and releases, for the most part.

Crowds have fallen off alarmingly in other sections of the Pacific Coast as well. Almost certainly other teams will follow the lead of Oakland.

Still more aggregations, not so hard hit possibly, may not reach for the gas-pipe. But certainly expenses will be whittled all along the line, starting with——you guessed it—a cutting down of the rosters, followed by salary slashings, as well.

Anyone thinking we can't get along without coal and steel strikes up this way?

Why Didn't They Tell Him?

Wonder why $50,000 per season "brass-hats" in any line sometimes make themselves ridiculous by irresponsible statements to the press?

Less than a week before the big Boston Braves-New York Giants trade of the recent winter meetings in New York, Billy Southworth, Boston manager, was quoted to the effect that "Johnny Sain and Al Dark are two Braves not for sale at any price."

Nevertheless, shortstop Dark, National League rookie winner in 1948—is now a Giant. Yet. He figured in the big deal, that also sent the aforementioned Sainky destined for a stay-along Broadway.

In other words Southworth doesn't know "from nuthin'" what cools with his own ball club.

Talk of your coincidences?

Role of onetime south side boy Johnny (Red) Pollard in the film "Story of a Hollywood" is played by Lou McCallister, a Hollywood who spent considerable time in Edmonton as a GI during the late shooting affray.

Pollard, of course, rode to turf immortality on the broad back of the great thoroughbred, Seabiscuit.

Ed Clarke Doesn't Know?

Looks like Roy Frederick's salary as reminder of the Flyers has developed into a live issue within the ranks of the Edmonton Exhibition association, sponsor of the local entry in the WCHL.

President Ed Clarke, a former member of the association, says the association would be loath to find out the amount of the president's salary. (The amount of the association was given as $10,000.)

But neither immediately on the construction of a $20,000 "chicken-house."

Recently Mr. Anderson (sometimes known as Al Marshall, especially to MacLean's magazine readers) was quoted to the effect that when Canadian players proved as efficient as American imports, (the homebodies) should be paid as much.

Now to sit back and watch the chicks come home to roost—if kids like Don Simon, Jack Baldwin, Gene Kinski and more develop as they may.

Riley Mullen Returns To Gardens Tonight

Riley (Moon) Mullen, now at the helm of the Saskatchewan Quakers, comes back to town today, in fact, considering the Quakers' success story is being took charge of the club last week-end two wins in two starts. Mr. Mullen more properly is "blowing" back his town.

Reason for Mullen's return is that Western Canada Hockey League offering at the Gardens tonight, featuring Riley Mullen and the revitalized (it says here) Quakers.

Players were back home this morning following a four-day trip to the United States, where they had gained a 4-4-4 record at Calgary last night. They are confident of knowing of Quakers' fate, but they are not so sure of their own.

It is a fact that Mullen has been in the Gardens since the 1946-47 season, when he was a member of the VCHL and was recruited, four years ago.

Of course Quakers are bound to win one at the Gardens, SOBE. TIME: Whether this is the night to win or not, it is a matter of time to be seen. Certainly Quakers, a former Flyers member who got the gate after the 1946-47 season, would have pulled out all stops in a week-end like this.

One change Mullen effected was the formation of a new team that has Tommy Harrington, centre, wingers "Chuck" McGillivray and the starry Cy Higgins.

Former local junior, Defencemen Danny Huddleston and Joe Poirier have been added since the team took a 3-1 shellacking here two weeks ago.

It is not known whether or not Harvey (Bud) Young will take the place on the Flyers' regular line, but he has Tommy Harrington, centre, wingers "Chuck" McGillivray and the starry Cy Higgins.

Ray Christenson Winner Of Moher On Sport Quiz

Ray Christenson, sports enthusiast who resides at 10702 68 Avenue, was the winner of the recent sports quiz conducted by Moher on Sport.

Along with seven-year-old Gordon (Pete) Duff, he had a 100% score. Christenson correctly answered 10 out of the 20 questions.

Not one of the many entrants was able to notch a 20 for 20 batting average.

Names of Christenson and young Pina were placed in a hat, as per contest rules in case of a tie. Normie Knop was editor Al Januski's reached in and came out with Christenson's name.

As a result Christenson received two tickets for tonight's Flyers-Saskatoon contest at the Gardens.

Following is the correct set of answers:

1. Joe Louis won heavyweight crown in first place from Jim Braddock. (2) Amsterdam won Speed to Spare handily at 25-0.

Plebiscite Urged in Event Govt. Unwilling to Pay Half

SEDGEWICK, Dec. 17 — Alternative of provincial education on the question, was included in a resolution requesting the government to pay 50 per cent of the costs of operating schools, passed at the annual meeting of electors of Killam School Division.

Dissatisfaction was also expressed with present regulations which require that all schools be one-room and nine graded schools totaling 60 classrooms. During the year four rural schools were closed and four classrooms opened in centralized schools.

secretary announced that Paul Kroetsch and L. J. Hedry had been nominated for the Heister sub-division. The next nomination (the election) would be held on the second Saturday in January. ## Foremost First With Fluorine

By Pat McQueen

Bulletin Staff Writer

Edmonton researchers were among the first on the continent to study the dental decay-preventing qualities of fluorine water.

They gathered most of their information 10 years ago.

Asked about the possible advantages of fluorine which Edmonton city council has been asked to consider adding to city drinking water, A. Bruce Edmonstone, dentist, told The Bulletin the idea is something but new here.

NATURAL FLUORINE

Twenty years ago dentists in the northwestern part of Alberta wrote colleagues in Edmonton that their patients' teeth showed a peculiar brown mottling, and that the incidence of tooth decay in the towns and villages of the area was much less than normal.

As the reports piled up, University of Alberta and department of public health officials decided to investigate in the area.

Dr. Hootney could not recall the names of the researchers, but he believed their work started in the Foremost area.

THEIR FINDINGS IGNORED

"They discovered heavy concentrations of fluorine in wells more than 200 feet deep in the district and an absence of the chemical in shallower wells in this area."

But persons who drank the fluorine water consistently, and who had noticeable brown mottlings on their teeth, although they evidently suffered less from tooth decay.

Today throughout the entire district, north from Macleod, through Alberta, Foremost and Area H, where the fluorinated decay well water exists—similar dental conditions are found among the population.

The Edmonton researchers' work with fluorine water was not taken seriously. Sometime later a town in Texas, by the national magazine with big headlines about the absence of tooth decay among its population and the practice of fluorine in its water supply.

RESEARCH IN BRANTFORD
Later still, the city of Brantford, Ont., decided to add fluorine to its water supply in an effort to learn experimentally of the decay preventing qualities of the chemical.

Today Brantford is the chemical city in Canada and one of the few on the continent conducting such research.

Results of the tests would be known definitely for several years. Some dental authorities point out that while fluorine may have decay preventing qualities, much is still unknown about the chemical. They also claim compensation for injuries allegedly sustained in the same accident is H. G. Martell, Edmonton salesman. Mr. Martell is seeking a total of $2,500 from the American firm. Leo Peksary is acting for Martell.

Hamilton Anderson of Fisher-Horne, Alts., seeks $17,500 from Gateway Fisheries Ltd. of Edmonton for injuries allegedly received when that company's snowmobile struck him at Great Slave Lake. Maclean and Dunne are acting for Anderson.

Drink Blamed At Inquest In Traffic Death

A coroner's jury yesterday found excessive consumption of liquor contributed to a fatal highway collision near Stonyvale which cost the life of Arthur Farrow, 204-10-10 Street, Edmonton.

The jury found that Norman G. W. McMillan, now charged with manslaughter, was driver of a car which collided with Farrow's car on the 7th.

The inquest held in city hall, found that excessive consumption of liquor largely contributed to the accident.

BLANK SPOTS

Occupants of the Gowing car testified that there were a number of blank spots where they just couldn't remember a thing. The accident occurred when Farrow was driving his three-wheeled car into Edmonton and the others were returning to Morinville on the 50.

Evidence presented by Sgt. James McMillan was that the driver, by giving way when he was in the middle of the road, caused the death, jury found. A fractured skull, broken ribs, lacerations of the chest cavity and injuries to the brain.

Gowing is under demand to justify his testimony.

Praise Given Pearson For Hospital Activity

After a recent service as chairman of Edmonton's hospital board, Vernon Pearson resigned the post at last night's board meeting.

Discussions were passed both ways. Mr. Pearson said that during his last year as chairman and 11 years as a board member, the "extraordinarily harmonious relations on the board have been remarkable."

"Everyone on the board has held a deep sense of responsibility for making our hospitals better," he said.

A. Farnell said Edmonstone is in debt to Mr. Pearson for the service he has rendered. The board made it unanimous.

After three years as chief engineer of the hospital, Mr. Pearson entered the provincial government service, where he now is mechanical superintendent in the department of public works. The interest of public works.

Free Cases Cost $7,000 Monthly

Gov't Scheme Proving Costly for City Hospital

Royal Alexandra hospital is losing $7,000 a month on provincial government "free treatment" cases, Secretary-Treasurer Murray Ross reported to a hospital board meeting last night.

At the same time, Mr. Ross reported the hospital's 1949 deficit was $147,000, compared with $100,000 in 1948. The figure is $47,000 less than a year ago and $84,000 less than the 11-month total of $131,000.

Cost of operation in November was $12,000, an increase of $1,000 over October, making an 11-month total of $127,000. This is $20,000 more than the same period of 1948 and $20,000 more than the 11-month total of $107,000.

Food costs for the hospital have risen 1.3 per cent over 1948, Mr. Ross reported.

During November, 8,542 meals were served, totaling the 11-month total to 920,521, which is 50,000 more than last year. Cost of food during November was 20 cents per head per meal, or $1.70 per patient day.

Adjusted adult inpatient payment cost for November was $1.10 and the 11-month average $1.05, compared with a 1948 average of $1.02.

The board accepted Mr. Ross' resignation with regret, effective the end of December. He has then been accepted as secretary of the Canadian Hospital Council at Toronto, after eight years as secretary-treasurer of the hospital and secretary to the board.

Concert Pianist Success on Tour

Good Reception Given Stecura in Alberta North

It may be cold in the north country, but classical music gets a warm reception. Edmonton pianist Rima Stecura returned to the city this week from his latest jaunt into Northern Alberta, and he had high praise for the people of Dawson Creek and Grande Prairie.

Mr. Stecura played concerts in half a dozen northern towns a couple of months ago and liked his work so much he wanted to go back for more—even though it was 20 below zero in Dawson Creek.

About 1,000 adults and children attended his concert in Dawson and Grande Prairie on Dec. 9, 10 and 11.

Sponsors of the events were the Music and Drama Festival Committee in Dawson Creek, and the Knights of Columbus in Grande Prairie.

Pianist Stecura was particularly enthusiastic about the festival in Dawson Creek. The town has a brand-new $250,000 high school, with an auditorium that has a capacity of 500 and, unpolluted seats.

Now that he's visited the north country, Mr. Stecura is anxious to arrange a concert tour of southern Alberta for the month of February.

In the meantime, he's preparing for two half-hour radio broadcasts. He will play Bach, Beethoven, Schubert and Liszt over the CBC western network on Jan. 5, beginning at 10 p.m. and an all-Chopin program on Jan. 10.

Listeners of both axes will be charmed with the versatile Talbot Cooldidge background, but Celia Amblerley, married actress, Gelia's life becomes entangled in upper middle-class respectability. The remainder of the book traces her girlish problems and young love affairs through adolescence, high school and college days.

Canadian Music Concert Delayed

More Canadian music than people thought. The symposium sponsored by the Community Arts Council of Vancouver and Vancouver Symphony Society, has been postponed one month, from Feb. 12-15 to March 12-15.

The postponement was "the surprisingly large response to the prospect of a symposium of Canadian music."

Amblerley will appeal to female followers in particular by evoking halcyon memories of their own childhood—G.K.Y. THREE SHIPS WEST, by Harry Simons, The Hoverson Press.

The story of Columbus voyage of discovery, as well as the vicissitudes of fortune which preceded the discovery of America, is the theme of this novel by Canadian soldier and author, Simmons.

The novel begins when Columbus, weary of lack of support from the crown of Portugal, turns to the court of Isabella of Spain, and her maritime husband, Ferdinand, for aid on his voyage of discovery.

He finds a valuable ally in the Marchioness de Moya, young and beautiful companion of the queen, and another ally in Juan de Marchena, who braves the Moorish invaders of Spain to plead Columbus' cause at court.

The last three books of the novel deal with the actual voyage, exploration in the New World, and the return to Spain.

The book raises some interesting questions about Columbus and the history of the period. Unfortunately, it doesn't answer them. Even those noble allies of Columbus, mentioned above, get short shrift at the hands of author Simmons.

In chapter three, for example, we are given a description of the lovely Marchioness, which is to say the least, tempting. One wonders how the author could have dared to play the great role for which chapter three was the prelude.

She never does. We see her, but only as an old friend seen through the window of a non-story. She doesn't even say, "Hello."

After learning that Simmons won the first Stephen Leacock Award for Canadian humor, one cannot help wonder if "Three Ships West" was only intended to be another joke.

Canada Violinist Plans 3-Month Israel Tour

Well-known Canadian violinist, Elio Spivak, who for many years was Concertmaster of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra and who is now on the Faculty and the Board of Studies of the Royal Conservatory of Music, has been invited to go to Israel on a three-month concert tour.

Mr. Spivak will tour Israel as a soloist and has been engaged as guest artist at the Israel Festival in April and May in Israel. He will also be guest leader of the Jerusalem String Quartette in a three-month tour of Israel.

Mr. Spivak will leave Canada March 1st by air, stopping in London where he made his debut at Wigmore Hall in 1931. It was in London that Elio Spivak founded the Spivak String Quartette, the first string quartette ever to appear on the BBC.

From England he will go on to Paris where he studied at the Conservatoire, and where he made his first European appearance as a soloist in 1928 at the Salle des Agriculteurs. In 1932 he played in recital over the Paris radio system.

Mr. Spivak's first recital will be given the first week in April with the Jerusalem String Quartette. Elio Spivak was born in Ukraine in 1902. He arrived in Canada in 1920 after some years in the United States. At the invitation of Sir Ernest MacMillan he founded the Toronto Conservatory String Quartette in 1929. He and Sir Ernest became associated with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra in 1931.

The "Symphony Orchestra" gave ten concerts a year at that time. He recoupled today, and I let two years ago to engage a teaching and concert work, they were giving 75 concerts a year.

MUSIC

CECILIA AMBERLEY, by Victoria Lincoln. Clarke, Irwin and Co. Ltd. Simplicity has always been the keynote of Victoria Lincoln's fiction, but in Cecilia Amberley her simplicity is deceptive.

For this story of Cecilia's physical and mental and spiritual development is simple or complicated, as the reader wishes. It may be read by one person as a light amusing touching girlhood tale, and by another as a fascinating penetrating psychoanalytic study of a mind groping for maturity.

The plot is simple, depending on character rather than incident to entice it. Cecilia is the sensitive young child of loving, well-to-do parents. Her early childhood is marked by unfortunate differences between her mother and father, and her mother's subsequent breakdown and suicide.

When her father, Edwin Amblerley, marries again, Cecilia's life becomes entangled in upper middle-class respectability. The remainder of the book traces her girlish problems and young love affairs through adolescence, high school and college days.

Readers of both axes will be charmed with the versatile Talbot Cooldidge background, but Celia Amblerley, married actress, Gelia's life becomes entangled in upper middle-class respectability. The remainder of the book traces her girlish problems and young love affairs through adolescence, high school and college days.

SLEEPY-EYED TOT WAITS FOR SANTA

SLEEPY-TIME SANDMAN takes second place to Santa Claus come Merry Christmas Eve. Wincing, young un, who lives at O'Connell Institute for children, has decided to wait out Christmas Week without waiting time sleeping.

ARTISTIC INDUSTRY CREATES CHRISTMAS CARD MASTERPIECES

PRIMAARY SET DILIGENCE and' own does best. At artistic skill as O'Connell Institute class of little girls prepares personal Yuletide greeting card. The "Star" theme. Flat, sleeping Sandman, bright, glowing, happy, angelic and winter scenes are created suggestively by the busy little legs. Teaching sisters alone them the use of stencil, color-wash and neat printing. As they make the cards they learn the story of Christmas.

TIPPY-TOEING DOWN STAIRWAY TO INVESTIGATE MYSTERY OF SANTA CLAUS

SANTA'S BROWNIES will have hard time keeping any secrets from these watchful moppets living at O'Connell Institute. From past years' experience they know about the huge glittering tree that will appear at the festive season . . . and all the presents that will be waiting for them. Sisters in charge of the home for parentless little girls have been busy sewing for the Christmas gifts. Benefactors of the Institute also play Santa to the young folk.

CHRISTMAS STORY, UNFOLDED IN COLORFUL PICTURE BOOK

BRIGHT LITTLE EYES feast in the lovely colored pictures telling the story of Christmas. Wonderful season of joy, happiness, song and merriment is a beautiful story to these souls who live a childhood so different from ordinary children. Magic of the festive holiday atmosphere lacks family personal touch, but is made as bright as possible for the children.

SLEEPER CLAD TRIO THRILLED WITH THOUGHTS OF CHRISTMAS

WINKIE, BLINKIE AND NOD have earnest conversation about this interesting business of Christmas time and Santa Claus. Their dreams are filled with holiday wishes about extra goodies, dolls, toys of all sorts and pretty new things to wear. Buxers and interested benefactors try to make the festive season as merry and gay for the children as possible.

Careful Property Checking Advised

Excavating on Wrong Lot Seems Common Occurrence

By Ari Rittor

Few things can be more costly to the prospective home-builder than starting to build on someone else's property, or in the wrong place on his own.

Many of people starting to excavate for a new house find that the foundations being completed before it is found they are in the lot of a neighbor. If a property owner is to be sure it is found they are in the

Home Ownership Needs Practical Accounting

Many home owners find that the cost of owning a home is much greater than they expected. This is because they have not taken into account the many small expenses that add up over a long period of time. A practical accounting of these expenses can help you to see the true cost of home ownership and to plan accordingly.

For example, the cost of a home is not just the purchase price. It includes the cost of the land, the cost of the building, the cost of the furnishings, the cost of the utilities, the cost of the maintenance, and the cost of the taxes. All of these costs add up to a large sum of money, and it is important to know how much you can afford to spend on a home.

A practical accounting of these expenses can help you to see the true cost of home ownership and to plan accordingly. It can help you to decide whether you can afford to buy a home, and it can help you to decide which home is the best value for the money.

THE "ESPANOLA" — This is a home that combines luxury and dignity without being elaborate. It is planned to meet the needs of an owner whose suburban property might front a lake or river. There is a remarkably spacious effect obtained with a comparatively low ebbage on account of the height being held to a minimum. Ample size utility room with plenty of storage still further reduces the cost on account of no basement. Exterior is designed in a simple Colonial style combining white painted brick, stone and cedar shake roof. This is another in the Bulletin series of homes designed by Harold C. Beckett, architect, Windsor, Ontario.

NEW FOLDING TYPE BENCHES

Patented folding auditorium benches, eight feet long and seating six adults, are being offered in Canada by British Columbia film, seating space per 100 persons is said to be 8 ft by 6 ft by 2 ft high according to the manufacturer.

Hollywood Stairlift Makes Canadian Debut

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17. — "Hollywood Stairlift," the new way to climb stairs — a cross between an escalator and a private elevator — is making its debut in Canada. The first one is being installed in a Vancouver apartment.

The design is a more advanced model, modified to comply with safety regulations governing escalators and elevators. The lift occupies about 14 inches of the stair space when in use, or the stairs may be folded back to occupy only six inches. Its designers say the stairlift is suitable for large homes or small apartment use and is so simple it can be operated by a child.

R. M. Little, V. C. Madorsky, and Charles Albert of Albert Co., Ltd., are introducing the new device. The Romans were the first to introduce cobblestones as road pavement.

Science Evolves Useful Articles

Plastic Roller Type Shade Resists Cracking, Fading

Plastic roller type window shades are being marketed in Canada. Made of special rigid vinyl material, they are resistant to cracking, fading and are resistant to staining, shrinking or fading. They are available in "standard" colors in a range of 2 ft. to 12 ft. in width by any desired drop.

Odorous paint developed by a New York firm, achieved through specially formulated and exclusive use of new materials and not through deodorants or perfumes, it is stated. The solvent developed in odorless form by petroleum industry and binder rendered odorless by recent process. Price is slightly higher due to cost of material in use. Most of the odorous paint is now available in flat variety. Not a full line of all colors in gloss and flat is expected by early next year.

DEODORIZER
One Kilmer, The Cushman Distributing Co., Detroit, is producing a household deodorizer to plug into electrical outlets. A heating element inside a plastic shell about the size of a light bulb without developing a strong odor of its own.
